LABOR BOARD OPENS EXECUTIVE SESSION TO DISCUSS WAGES FOR RAILROAD FOLK

B. J. Jewell Will Present the Answer of Employees on Monday

RAILROADS TO OFFER REBUTTAL ARGUMENT

Railroads Are Seeking Permission to Abrogate the National Agreement

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Members of the United States Labor Board met in executive session here today for the discussion of official matters pertaining to the work of the board.

Closed sessions will be held until Monday, when B. J. Jewell, head of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor, will present the answer of the employees to the plea of the railroads for permission to abrogate the national agreement and reduce wages of employees.

After Jewell has completed his statement, the railways will be permitted to offer rebuttal argument.

SALVATION ARMY LASSIES TO SERVE IN LEPER COLONY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Seven years of service among the lepers of Java is the pledge of Elizabeth Brooks, a pretty English girl of twenty, who volunteered in the service of the Salvation Army to continue the activities of a comrade, who lost her life by contracting the dread disease while in the colony.

It was at a meeting in Leicester-shire, England, addressed by General Bramwell Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, that Miss Brooks made the pledge, offering a seven-year term of service, and her life, if necessary, among the suffering lepers.

Disowned by her family at the time of joining the Salvation Army, Miss Brooks, who has now attained the rank of captain in the organization, has been estranged from them for several years. Her decision to go to Java brought about a reconciliation.

Recognized Her Life Work
Speaking of her proposed work, Captain Brooks said:

"From my girlhood days I have wanted to be a missionary. When I joined the Salvation Army I applied for this branch of the service. It was not long until I attended the meeting held by General Booth and heard the story of the Salvationists' work among the lepers that I was afforded my great opportunity to volunteer."

"General Booth told the story of the devotion of one of my comrades to the lepers which has fired me with enthusiasm. It is this: A woman Salvationist so loved and pitied them, and was so anxious to serve that she would not hurt their poor, stricken bodies by wearing the gloves she had been cautioned to wear. At last she contracted the disease and died among them, a leper herself."

Has No Fear of Disease
"I feel the call to take her place. I am not afraid, for I feel that God has been with me in my long vigil to win back my family, and he will not forsake me now."

The voyage begun by Captain Brooks last December will not end until April 1. In that time she will have traveled from Leicestershire, England, through France, Spain, across the Atlantic to New York, from New York to San Francisco, and thence to Java.

Free Coffee Will Be Saturday Gift

According to an announcement made today by C. W. Arnold, a great bank-rust stock clearance sale will begin tomorrow at the old Union Supply Company's stand on Moulton street, at which a pound of coffee will be given free to each person being waited on when the clock strikes the hour.

NO LIMIT PUT ON WINE GIVEN BY THE DOCTOR

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Prohibition Commissioner Kramer today announced there is no limit to the amount of wine which a physician may prescribe for a patient nor is there any limit to the frequency of such prescriptions.

"That matter is left to the sound and honest judgment of the physician," Kramer said.

APPROPRIATION FOR MUSCLE SHOALS IS ASKED OF SENATE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—An increase of $28,437,415.50 in the sundry civil appropriation bill was recommended by the Senate appropriations bill in favorably reporting the measure to the Senate today. The Senate committee inserted in the bill an appropriation of $10,000,000 for Muscle Shoals, which was sponsored by Senator Underwood. The bill, as passed by the House, provided for a total of $382,483,692.41. An appropriation of $17,500,000 for additional hospital facilities for sick and maimed American soldiers of the world war is provided in the bill.

RAHM CLOTHING CO. AWARDS LOVING CUP

OFFER OF BUSINESS FIRM IS AC-CEPTED BY Y. M. C. A.

The offer of the Rahm Clothing Company to award a loving cup to the bowler making the highest individual average according to the self-explanatory correspondence:

Mr. W. C. Nollau,
Albany, Ala.,
c/o Y. M. C. A.

Dear Sir:—As a stimulant and an incentive to encourage bowling at your local Y. M. C. A., we understand that you have organized a league of various teams and that the schedule as now made out will last until some time in March.

If permissible, we would like to offer a "loving cup" or "trophy" to the person making the highest individual average score in the league of the entire season that the schedule is to run. We will take the official scorekeeper's record and make our decision by that, if you already have your official scorekeeper chosen, which we feel sure you have, and we are perfectly willing to leave the matter to his fair judgment.

The trophy that we have in mind will not be less than 18 inches in height and will be of heavy silver plate with gold lining and will be engraved in a suitable manner and wording for the event for which it is given.

Looking forward to the pleasure of hearing favorably from you and adding that on receipt of your favorable reply we will buy the trophy and have it on exhibit in our window.

Yours truly,

RAHM CLOTHING CO.

W. W. Rahm.

Rahm Clothing Company,
Albany, Alabama.

Dear Mr. Rahm:
Permit me to acknowledge your letter of January 27 containing your generous offer in the nature of presenting a "loving cup" or "trophy" to the Bowling League of our association.

I read with great satisfaction your opening sentence, namely, "As a stimulant and incentive to encourage bowling at your local Y. M. C. A." This lends encouragement to the writer to see that the citizenship of our communities are realizing the need of giving not only their financial but moral support as well to our institution, which is endeavoring to promote wholesome influences and activities for the young manhood in our midst. I sincerely hope that many others will follow your lead and that we may thus be enabled to increase our program to this end.

It therefore gives me great pleasure to accept your offer in behalf of my committee of management and to assure you we appreciate this unsolicited offer and will see that the conditions accompanying it will be fully met at the time the award is made.

Gratefully yours,

WALTER C. NOLLAU,

Executive Secretary.

DECISION OF COURT ON GOOD ROADS ACT CREATES SENSATION IN OFFICIAL CIRCLES

Rehearing May be Asked on $25,000,000 Bond Amendment to Constitution

EXTRA SESSION TALKED FOR THE LEGISLATURE

Not Considered Likely, However,
That the Action Will Be Taken

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Feb. 4.—Alabama's $25,000,000 Good Roads Bond Issue amendment is unconstitutional and void. The supreme court of the state has so held in a decision announced Thursday morning. This decision was not, however, unanimous, the majority opinion, written by Justice Thomas C. McClellan being concurred in by Chief Justice Anderson and Associate Justices Sayre and Miller, while Associate Justices Somerville and Gardner concurred in the dissenting opinion prepared by Justice Thomas.

Announcement of the majority decision was made shortly after 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the supreme court chamber at the state capitol. After the court had assembled and taken their seats on the bench, Justice McClellan arose and announcing the decision of the majority, gave a brief resume of the court's consideration of the bond issue amendment case, one of the most important that has ever come before the state's highest tribunal. He stated that after the appeal had been submitted, Justice Thomas had been selected to write the opinion. When this opinion was read in conference, it was stated, it was concurred in by Justices Gardner and Somerville. Chief Justice Anderson and Associate Justices Sayre, Miller and McClellan dissented from the opinion written by Justice Thomas, however, and thereupon Justice McClellan was selected to write the opinion of the majority.

Creates Sensation

Announcement of the decision of the supreme court produced a profound sensation in official circles at the capitol, and little else was talked of throughout the remainder of the day. It appears to have been the opinion of the layman majority that the supreme court would sustain the validity of the good roads amendment.

Although every contention cited in the original bill was considered at length by the court, the decision which held the bond issue amendment invalid was based principally upon the manner in which the amendment was submitted to the qualified voters of the state, or in other words, the action of the legislature in leaving it to the discretion of the governor to fix a date upon which the election for adoption of the proposed amendment would be held. In this connection the supreme court ruled that the legislature omitted, by failing itself to appoint a date for the holding of the election, that prerequisite to the valid submission of the amendment to the electorate of the state, and that the proposed amendment not having been constitutionally submitted to an election so appointed, "was and is invalid, and never became a part of the constitution of Alabama."

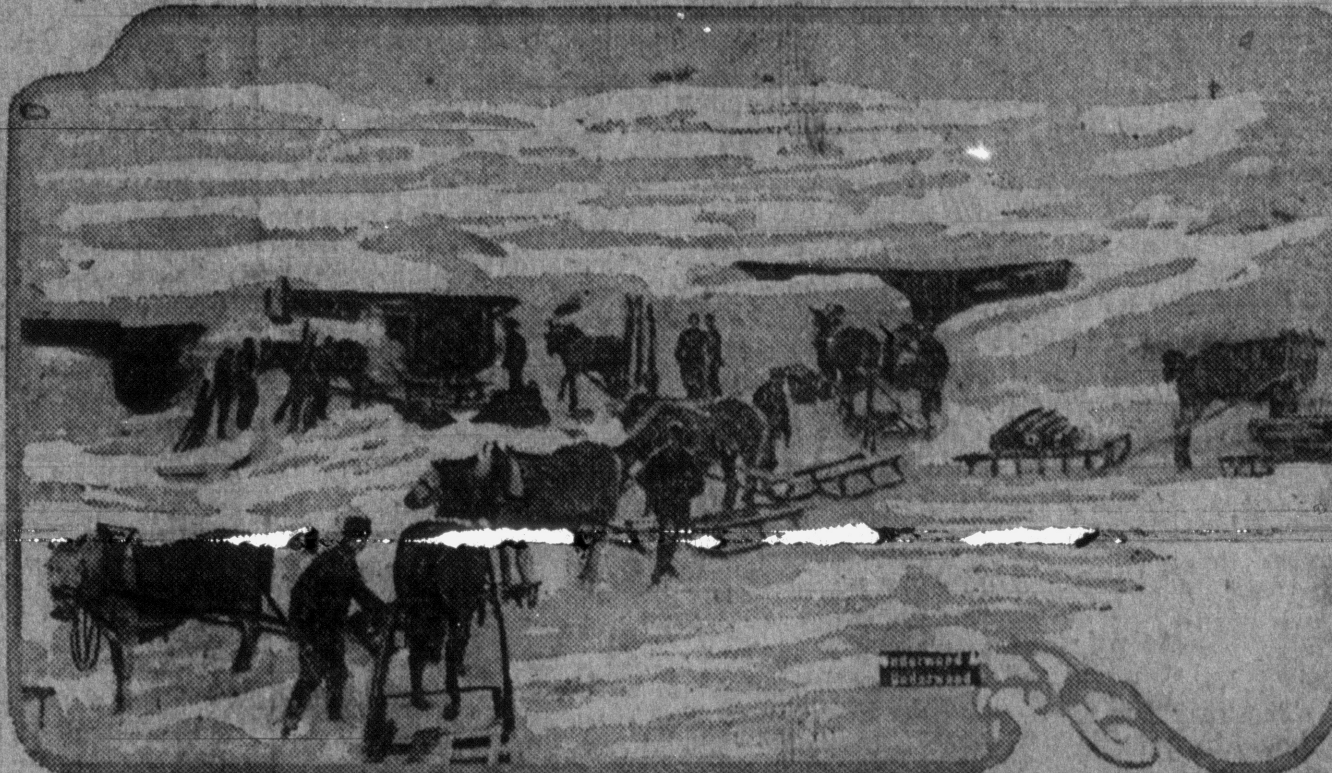

Touching upon this same point in his dissenting opinion, Justice Thomas maintained that the power to fix the time for the holding of the election at which the proposed amendment was to be submitted to the qualified voters of the state, could be delegated to the governor or to any other agent when the legislature might see fit to appoint.

Friendly Suit

The original bill, which was in the character of a friendly proceeding, was filed in the Montgomery county circuit court in equity by A. M. Johnson, Jr., a Montgomery county taxpayer and automobile owner, and had for its purpose determination of the constitutionality of the good roads bond issue amendment. The bill, in effect, sought injunctive relief to restrain the state highway commission and other administrative agencies from observing and giving effect to the amendment. The validity of the amendment was sustained by the lower court, whereupon Mr. Johnson took an appeal to the supreme court, which on Thursday reversed the ruling of the circuit court and remanded the cause.

JAKE SMITH FOUND GUILTY AS HOLMES TRIAL IS STARTED

(International News Service)

TUSCUMBIA, Ala., Feb. 4.—The jury in the case of Jake Smith, who with 16 others was indicted in connection with the killing of Prohibition Officer Don Stevenson, returned a verdict of guilty at 6 o'clock this morning and sentenced the defendant to 30 years in the penitentiary. The jury deliberated all night. It is said that a deadlock was in sight at one time.

Smith is the third man to be tried and convicted for the murder of Stevenson. Hamp Kirby, the first of the alleged "moonshiners' ring" to be tried was sentenced to life imprisonment. Sid Kirby, father of Hamp Kirby, was given 20 years' imprisonment. The case of Will Holmes, charged with having plotted the murder of Stevenson, was called and quickly gotten under way when court convened this morning. Solicitor Jones read the indictment made against Holmes by the grand jury and the defendant entered a plea of not guilty.

During the trial of Jake Smith the courtroom was crowded to the doors. Argument in this case began shortly before noon and Judge Almon charged the jury at 3:30. While the jury was deliberating the Smith case, the new jury for the Holmes case was empaneled. The state announced it was ready for trial. A motion by R. L. Simpson, counsel for the defense, for a change of venue or a postponement and a new venire to be summoned on the ground that the present jury had heard the testimony in the previous cases and had formed a fixed opinion, was overruled by Judge Almon. The Judge stated the oath taken by the jurors qualified them and covered this point. He declared he had too much confidence in the jurors of Colbert county to believe they would falsify themselves.

GUESTS FLEE FROM BURNING BUILDING IN 'NIGHTCLOTHES'

(International News Service)

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 4.—The Bon Air hotel, a famous resort, was completely destroyed by fire at 6:30 o'clock this morning. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000 including the damage to the property and the loss of personal possessions of the guests. The 250 guests escaped without injury, but it was necessary for firemen to carry many of them, including six persons, to safety.

Many saved only a small amount of their clothing and were forced to abandon the burning building in their nightclothes. The cause of the fire is not known. It was the second fire which had damaged the hotel in less than a year. The Bon Air is one of the most famous resort hotels in this section and among its guests in past years have been many of the presidents.

OIL DEVELOPMENT HOLDS ATTENTION

PEOPLE INTERESTED IN WHAT DISCOVERY OF OIL WILL MEAN

The work of developing the oil possibilities here has focused the attention of Morgan county people on what oil development means to a community. One of the most recent discoveries of new fields occurred in El Dorado, Ark., where a well was found which still is unmastered. The oil pours from the well and now has formed a lake 12 feet deep at one end, within a natural amphitheatre.

Press dispatches from El Dorado tell something of the rapid growth of the little city.

The afternoon when this well came in three weeks ago children were returning home from school. Many of them were sprinkled with it while walking El Dorado streets. Men familiar with oil wells say the future of El Dorado is yet to be known. The extent of the oil field there must be developed. It cannot be measured by one well, and until this well is properly capped there cannot be any safe and sane prediction made of its output. But the uncertainty of the future is not keeping speculators away. They are coming by trainloads. Hotels are overcrowded, private residences are filled with strangers, tents are up in all the downtown streets, and under them are cots for rent at $1 a night.

Eating stands are being erected everywhere. Some are going up in front yards, the owner of the property selling a lunch stand location at from $200 to $500, the lessee paying cost of constructing the building and from $50 to $200 a month rent for the ground. Residential property that sold a few days ago for $700 a lot is going for $5000. One man bought a lot a few years ago for $25. He sold it recently for $3000. Opposite the leading hotel was a small brick one-story warehouse. It has been cut into eight small offices, renting for $500 a month.

ARRESTS EXPECTED FOLLOWING OFFER OF STOLEN BONDS

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 4.—Sensational arrests were expected momentarily today in connection with the sale here of $255,000 in Liberty bonds of large denominations, half of which were found to have been stolen in New York last November, when automobile bandits held up two messengers of Kearn-Taylor and Company, brokers, in Brooklyn and obtained nearly half a million dollars in government securities.

Announcement was made shortly before noon today by Inspector of Detectives Griffin of the disclosure of the attempted sale of a third batch of $100,000 worth of Liberty bonds. Griffin said his men were seeking a prominent Memphis attorney to question him in connection with the stolen securities scandal.

W. H. Huntley Jr., vice-president of the City National Bank, who issued a signed statement in which he told of engineering the disposal of one batch of $85,000 worth of securities, was not at his desk today, having resigned after asking the bank directors to suspend judgment until he had had an opportunity to prove the innocence of his connection with the bond deal.

Biggs Nolan, wealthy proprietor of a downtown drug store, today reiterated his denial that he had nothing to do with the Huntley deal and that he never attempted to dispose of this alleged third batch of $100,000 bonds through a Memphis attorney.

ALIBI THEORY BEING DEVELOPED IN TRIAL OF SOLDIER HELD IN LYNCHING HEARING

Lieutenant and Sergeant Tell of Seeing Lancaster on Day of Killing

McBRIDE DECLARES NO MOTOR ENTERED CAMP

Telephone Message From Col.
Dallas Smith Ordered the Inspection

(International News Service)

HAMILTON, Ala., Feb. 4.—Lieutenant L. B. McBride and Sergeant S. B. Thompson, of Company M, testified today in the trial of Sergeant Robert L. Lancaster, first of the nine members of Company M, Alabama National Guard, to be tried for the lynching of William Baird, that all members of Company M on strike duty on January 13 were "present and accounted for" from 4:35 to 5 o'clock on that morning.

McBride testified that no motor car entered camp after he was awakened at 4:30 and had given orders to check the company and guard the road. Sergeant Thompson, who is company clerk, was the first witness for the defense today.

He testified that he was awakened at 4:30 o'clock on the morning of January 13 by Col. Dallas Smith, commander of the troops in the district, talking over the telephone from Jasper. Colonel Smith called Lieutenant McBride to the phone and ordered him and Thompson to make a check of the camp. Thompson said he did not awaken Lancaster personally, but that he saw him asleep and that the check of the men, made by Lieutenant McBride and himself, showed all accounted for.

The "captain's car" was "out front" when the inspection was made, Thompson said. It was muddy, but that was nothing unusual for an officer's car, he testified.

Thompson said he saw Lancaster at mess and heard him talking, but that Lancaster made no statement as to "notches on his gun" or any threat against those who "squealed." The testimony of Private Clyde Springer was almost totally contradicted by Sergeant Thompson.

McBride followed Thompson on the stand and corroborated his testimony in all essential particulars.

Appreciate Farm Work of College

AUBURN, Ala., Feb. 4.—(Special)

—That the dairymen of Alabama thoroughly appreciate the Agricultural College at Auburn is proven by what they have been doing, what they are now doing and what they expect to do in the near future.

Seeing the great value of a dairy department at Auburn, the Alabama Dairy Association last July sent representatives here and asked that a dairy department be established. Upon being advised that the money for this department was not on hand even though it was of a recognized importance, this association agreed to lend $10,000 to the college to establish and maintain this department with the understanding that it was to be returned to them when the condition of the college treasury will permit it being done. A large portion of this money has already been raised and Prof. W. H. Eaton took charge of this new department at the opening of college last September.

Not being content with the dairy department, these same dairymen agreed among themselves that Auburn must have a first class dairy herd and different well known dairymen agreed to donate a high class animal each to such a herd. The first one to arrive was a beautiful Jersey cow donated by Bon Aire Farm, owned by E. E. Shriptrine, Safford, Ala. The second one to arrive is known as Oxford Knight's Flossy, donated by Praytor & Jemison, Trussville, Ala.

Professor Eaton reports that several more are expected within the next few weeks and that these cows will form the nucleus for what is expected to be, in the future, a very famous dairy herd.

TO PROBE BERGDOLL CASE

At last Uncle Sam announces he will investigate the notorious Bergdoll and his manner of escape from the clutches of the American army into a German city where he is lionized as a martyr to a "lost cause."

After the series of governmental investigations which were started for no other apparent purpose than to embarrass some officials who had contributed to winning the war and which accomplished nothing further than the expenditure of a few thousand more of the tax payers' dollars, it is a relief that the solons have decided to undertake a probe which is likely to have beneficial results.

The escape of Bergdoll should be probed, but the inquiries should not stop at that. The responsibility for the draft dodger, escape should be fixed and the person or persons guilty of it punished along with the yellow livered slacker himself.

Of all the after-the-war scandals in America the Bergdoll case is one of the worst. The apology reported to have been made to the German government by the American commander at Coblenz because two Americans tried to kidnap Bergdoll on German soil is only heaping additional insults upon the nation. Instead of being imprisoned the would-be kidnapers deserve the gratitude of the United States, collectively and individually.

Let the work of the smelling committee go forward immediately and unless the noses of the members are in need of repair, they will be able to render a real service to their country. The Bergdoll case has been a stench in the nostrils of the nation long enough.

COL SANDERS HONORED

The many friends of Col. W. T. Sanders, of Athens, will rejoice because of the honor which has come to him from the Democratic party through his selection as one of a committee of 16 to plan the reorganization of the party in the nation.

If the Democratic party is to continue to be a factor in the political life of America, there must be a tightening of lines; there must be builded out of the present party a more powerful organization, one which will be capable of recovery from one of the most disastrous defeats ever received in a presidential election. Col. Sanders' natural intelligence and political sagacity will aid materially in attaining that object.

While his selection upon Chairman White's committee is a very high honor for the Athenian, the Democratic party is fortunate in having within its inner councils a party leader of such ability.

SOBRIETY FOLLOWS CLOSE ON FLAG OF PROHIBITION

Cases involving drunkenness in Louisville, Ky., have fallen off 85 per cent since National Prohibition became effective, according to Mayor George W. Smith.

During the last wet year ended June 30, 1919, there were 6,809 such cases. During the succeeding twelve months there were only 1,061 such cases, or a reduction of 5,748 cases.

Mayor Smith's statement was in response to a request made of him by an eastern newspaper, says the Louisville Courier-Journal of January 19, to provide it with data regarding the situation in Louisville since whisky was outlawed.

In the opinion of the mayor who insists that he is not a Prohibitionist, "Prohibition can be enforced but until stricter or better methods are adopted in releasing forty million gallons of whisky there will be more violations of law than there should be."

There has been a falling off in all kinds of crimes since nation-wide Prohibition became effective, the mayor declared.—American Issue.

SADDENED SING SING

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Clearly the New York superintendent of prisons is not a member of the uplift brotherhood. Persona Non Grata may as well be his middle name so far as the Society for the Alleviation of Downtrodden Convicts is concerned. He has the curiously medieval notion that when a person has been sentenced to prison for crime some real punishment should follow. Being coddled for a brief term and then pardoned does not appeal to the superintendent as a hardened criminal's full debt to society.

So the superintendent lays down certain rules for the conduct of convicts which any full-fledged penal reformer will brand at once as reactionary and reprehensible.

Convicts will not be permitted to wear silk shirts, fancy ties, silk hosiery or jewelry. They must not write love letters, nor have women visitors, except women of their own families. They must live on prison food, no matter what delicatessen appetites they may possess.

What is prison life coming to? If all our gentlemen murderers, burglars and pluguglies temporarily in captivity are to have their personal liberties curtailed in this fashion, what's to become of our parlor theorists wedded to the thought of society's debt to its would-be destroyers? And what's the fun of being a convict if pretty, sentimental ladies cannot shower one with flowers, or if the convict himself cannot court some misguided miss by means of bogus love missives by way of whiling away his time? It's a sad sad day at Sing Sing. But a glad, glad day for those who fail to recognize heroism in mere scoundrelism.

THE SCARCITY OF PANTS

Whether woman, when she attained the right to vote and to meet her husband as an equal at the polls, also became the custodian of her husband's pants and the things concealed in the pockets therein, soon is to receive judicial determination.

There always has been more or less uncertainty as to who wore the pants in otherwise orderly households, and the practice of relieving friend husband of surplus change that he may have allowed to accumulate in his pockets is a form of larceny which has been winked at from time immemorial, until the modern wife has regarded it as an inalienable right.

This inalienable right might never have been disputed in public had woman the good judgment to be content with extracting currency from the pockets of her espoused while she slept.

But, no indeed. She must go a step further and filch letters sent to her husband by "the other woman."

All members of the Married Men's Club, a grand jury in Washington, D. C., have returned a true bill against one Mrs. Sarah H. Morrison in which she is charged with the overt act of having purloined the contents of a rather personal letter, the same having been tucked away in her husband's pants pocket (which pocket the indictment fails to state) for safekeeping and possible future reference.

A divorce action followed. But does hubby tamely submit? No, indeed. He feels that though he lose his wife, he can do something for the good of his fellow married man by establishing, with the aid of a jury of his peers, man's right to man's possessions secreted in the pockets of man's pants.

Pants are a necessary adjunct of man's attire. To be without them is akin to a feeling of loneliness. To appear in public in man's pants would be to invite the attention of the vulgar multitude, if not the attention of the authorities. On this point all men agree: pants are indispensable. They may be of broadcloth or of denim; they may be striped or checked or of solid material; they may be gaudy in hue or somber in tone, but still they are pants—man's pants.

The expression "you can bet your pants" is as old as pants themselves. And it is self-explanatory. It means a safe bet—a bet where you cannot lose, which, in the code of the gambler, is no bet at all. And when a man bets his pants, it is the ultimate wager. He cannot afford to lose. Then what is more reasonable than that he should choose the pockets of his pants for his secreted of those things which he values highest—his keys, his money and, in the "good old days," his corkscrew?

We calmly await the decision in this momentous case. And if our hopes are vindicated, we will toast Brother Morrison and take pleasure in proposing him for the Hall of Fame as the greatest emancipator since Lincoln.—Nashville Tennessean.

Those who are fond of argument, soon get so nothing agrees with them.

From the number of articles entitled, "All the truth about Russia," there must be little left over there but lies.

Your Uncle Sam is a good bill collector, but he has no idea of applying for the job of collecting the Allied indemnity of $56,000,000,000 as assessed against Germany.

TRIBUTE PAID TO MEMORY OF DAVIS

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

Tribute to the memory of Jeff Davis, prominent Trinity resident, who died several months ago, was paid by the Morgan County Board of Education, of which Mr. Davis had been a member, when the board met in regular session. The following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, It has been the privilege of the County of Morgan to have as a valuable member of its school board for many years, Mr. J. S. Davis; and

"Whereas, He has been faithful in service, giving his time, thought and best interest to the upbuilding of our educational system; and

"Whereas, In his every relation he has proven himself a loyal citizen, a faithful friend, and an upright Christian gentleman; therefore be it

"Resolved, By the Morgan County

"1. That we express a deep sense of personal loss to the members of the board of his counsel and fellowship in the work.

"2. That our schools have been deprived by his death of one of their most worthy friends and supporters, and Morgan county one of its best citizens and public servants.

"3. That we extend our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family and commend to them that blessed hope of the Resurrection which shall restore in joy that now lost in sorrow.

"4. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, also entered on the records of the school board as a perpetual memorial, and that a copy be published in the Albany-Decatur Daily as a public testimonial to the great regard in which his memory is held.

Decision of Court On Good Roads Act

for a new hearing in the lower court, should such a step be decided upon after the highest court in the state has declared the amendment void.

It is probable that application will be made for a rehearing in the bond issue amendment case, but unless some new grounds can be developed upon which validity of the amendment might be further argued, it is not likely that the matter will again be taken up in the lower court. There is some talk of an extra session of the legislature for resubmission of the amendment, but such an eventuality is regarded generally as highly improbable.

Reasons Given

In his majority opinion which held the bond issue amendment invalid, Justice McClellan first recited a short statement of the case as it was presented to the court, including the five reasons assigned in the original bill as to why the supreme court should hold the amendment void. These reasons follow:

1. That the election on said amendment was not ordered and the day of the election fixed by the legislature as required by the constitution, but that the legislature delegated this power and authority to the governor of the state.

2. That said amendment was improperly and illegally submitted to the governor for his approval or disapproval; that the governor of the state amended and materially changed the said amendment, and that thereafter the legislature did not readopt the same and make it its own, as required by Section 284 of the constitution.

3. That said amendment was not properly and legally advertised in the governor's proclamation as required by Section 284 of the constitution and by the acts of the legislature of 1916, page 602.

4. That the resolution passed by the legislature proposing said amendment

Made a Hit With Him

"My wife has taken your medicine and has been wonderfully benefited. For over four years she has had trouble with bleeding and could scarcely eat any food because of this condition. Doctor's medicines did not help her and an operation was advised. Her brother, who is a druggist, sent her a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy and it helped her at once. I cannot praise your medicine enough." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. M. Thompson in Albany, Owl Drug Co. in Decatur, and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

COTTON MARKET OPENS FEVERISH

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The cotton market opened active and feverish today at a slight advance of 4 to 11 points. Wall street and New Orleans were among the best purchasers early. The South and spot houses sold. Liverpool sold May and bought July. At the end of the first 20 minutes the list was heavy with prices under last night's close.

contained other matter of legislative nature, not germane to said amendment, which said matter is embraced in Section 7 of the said resolution, contrary to the provisions of Section 284 of the constitution.

5. That the language of said amendment is so vague and indefinite that its meaning is incapable of ascertainment and that it is therefore incapable of enforcement and therefore void.

A Life Long Case of Constipation Ended

Re-Cu-Ma Bring About Complete Cure in Case of Mrs. E. O. Howard, of Roanoke, Virginia, Where All Other Remedies She Had Tried Offered Temporary or No Relief At All.

"Ever since I was a little girl," says Mrs. E. O. Howard, "I have been troubled with habitual constipation. I always had to take some kind of pills. They would serve for a while but finally their effects would begin to wear off and I would try something else. Everything acts just the same. Finally I tried Re-Cu-Ma and I am more than glad to speak of its merits. It keeps the bowels regular and active. It doesn't cause any pain or griping."

"I can truthfully say," continues Mrs. Howard, "that any one who tries Re-Cu-Ma will not be disappointed in the results."

Re-Cu-Ma works its fine effects on the system through the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. It has proven its ability to help cases of indigestion, constipation, rheumatism in thousands of cases. It acts as a general tonic.

That you may learn of this phenomenal remedy the Re-Cu-Ma Company are making a wonderful four-day offer.

If Re-Cu-Ma does not help you after four days you may take the bottle back and get all of the money that you paid for it. Could anything be fairer? You can't lose. For sale by Thompson's Drug Store in Albany, Beason-Cobb Drug Co. in Decatur, and all good drug stores.—Adv.

BLOOD IS FUEL TO THE BODY

Pumped Through the System by the Heart, It Sustains the Muscles and Tissues

PEPTO-MANGAN HELPS BLOOD

Keep the Quality of Your Blood at Its Best—It Means Vigorous Health and Ability to Accomplish

Blood acts like a fuel. Pumped thru the body by the heart, it sustains the muscles and tissues. It renews them. It feeds the brain—the tissues of the eye and face. That is why people look so pale and lifeless when blood is impoverished. The body tissues are being supplied with weak fuel. The blood has not enough red corpuscles. You would not eat poor food with no nourishment in it; no more should you let the fuel that supplies sustenance to your entire body be inferior. Have good blood. Improve the quality and keep it at its best.

If you look pale and feel weak if you have lost your enthusiasm and energy, if your blood is clogged with poisons, your system is being fed with a poor grade of blood. That is no way to go around. If you are not at your best, get at the source of the trouble right away. Put an end to half-livings.

Take that ideal tonic, Pepto-Mangan, to tone up your blood and purify it. Get the full enjoyment out of living. Breathe fresh air, take exercise.

Be sure to ask for "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." It comes in convenient tablet form and in liquid. One has the same medicinal value as the other. There is only one genuine Pepto-Mangan, and the name "Gude's" is on the package.—Adv.

Mrs. H. A. Skeggs will return Saturday to her home in Birmingham. Mrs. Skeggs has been the recipient of much social attention while visiting in the Twin Cities.

Poultry Pointers For Present Month

(Prepared by Tennessee Valley Poultry Association)

If you haven't any chickens, buy them now and buy pure-bred stock. It is time all breeding pens were mated off. See that the hen houses are cleaned out thoroughly, whitewashed and new nests put in. Keep oyster shell, charcoal and grit before chickens at all times; it takes the oyster shell to form the shell of the egg, grit for the crop and charcoal to aid digestion.

See that the hens are all well dusted with some standard make of insect powder. Do not mate too many hens with male bird. From 10 to 12 females with one male. Mate old male with pullets or hens and young male with hens. Never mate young male with pullets.

Always keep plenty of fresh water where hens can get it at all times. Gather eggs at least three times daily during the cold weather. Be sure that all cracks are stopped in hen house; hens will not do well when forced to sleep in draft.

To abort a cold and prevent complications take

RAILROAD SUSPENDS OPERATIONS, EMPLOYEES REFUSE CUT IN WAGE

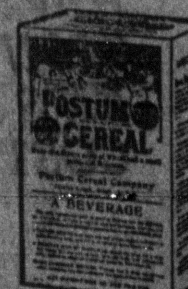

(International News Service)—KINGWOOD, W. Va., Feb. 4.—Because of a wage reduction the West Virginia and Northern railroad has virtually suspended operations for the present. The general management notified the employees of a reduction in wages, but a number of them refused to accept the cut and quit their jobs. As a consequence it became necessary to suspend all passenger and freight trains until further notice. Only a few office employees remain at work. Several trainmen and other workers agreed to accept the wage reduction, but with the suspension of operations they are temporarily out of work. United States mails are being carried over a bus line out of Albright.

Keep Your Blood Pure Nature Will Do the Rest

Did you know that ninety per cent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood? Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition seems to take possession of the whole body, it is an unfailing sign that impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of very promptly cleansing out the system, and keeping the blood supply pure and robust. Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drugstore to day, and note how promptly it builds up the appetite and gives new strength and vitality. Write for free literature and medical advice to Chief Medical Adviser, 163 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

You can depend on Dainty—its quality never varies

Week after week and year after year Dainty continues to produce the same fine baking. Its quality never varies—not even this year when millers are tempted to reduce quality to cut price.

Furthermore, Dainty is economical even though it costs more per sack than ordinary flour. Its high and never-varying quality enables you to use less shortening. It also makes Dainty absolutely dependable—you won't have needless, expensive failures with it. And of course Dainty produces better baking. How could it help it!

Milled by a special slow process from only the white centers of nothing but the very finest soft winter wheat, Dainty is like cream skimmed from rich, Jersey milk. It's all quality.
